Leo Dolan Pleads Not Guilty, Hearing Set For Next Wednesday

Arraigned on Charge of Second Degree Assault—Deputy Sheriff Greene Held To Await Action of the Grand Jury.

Leo Dolan, 31, of Hunter, who has been in the Kingston Hospital for treatment for bullet wounds in the chest and back, received in a hospital at the Hurley Hotel early Sunday morning, January 1, was discharged from the hospital Friday. Following his discharge he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Abraham Molyneux and taken before Justice of the Peace Roger H. Loughran at Hurley, where he was arraigned on a charge of second degree assault. Through his attorney, Andrew J. Cook, Dolan pleaded not guilty and demanded an examination. Justice Loughran set the case down for a hearing at the Hurley town hall on Wednesday evening, January 24, at 7:30. Dolan was released on bail of $1,500, which was furnished by Albert H. Cook, proprietor of the Hurley Hotel. The district attorney's office was represented by Charles de la Vergne.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Groene, who is alleged to have shot Dolan and who also has been at the hospital suffering from injuries alleged to have been received at the hands of Dolan, was arraigned before Justice Loughran Wednesday afternoon last and was held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of assault in the second degree. Groene, who was badly beaten about the face and chest, is reported to still be in a very weak condition and confined to his home near Hurley.

New Chaplain Named For Kingston Post

Rev. C. E. Brown, Pastor of Wurts Street Baptist Church, Elected To Succeed A. H. Shultis.

At the regular monthly meeting of Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, held Friday evening, the resignation of Albert H. Shultis as post chaplain was read and accepted with regret. Mr. Shultis, who has filled the office of chaplain for the past year, has found that other duties will take up his time on Friday nights for some time to come and as the regular meeting night of the Legion post is held on the third Friday of each month, he has found it impossible to be in attendance.

The Rev. Clarence E. Brown, pastor of the Wurts Street Baptist Church, was elected to succeed Mr. Shultis. The Rev. Mr. Brown was in charge of a church in Catskill before accepting the call to the local church. While in Catskill he served a term as county commander of the Greene County American Legion. He has also served the Greene County Legion as county chaplain. The Rev. Mr. Brown is an enthusiastic Legionnaire, a sociable, likeable fellow, and one who understands the ex-servicemen. There is no doubt but that he will be a big help to the local post during his pastorate in this city.

It is the desire of the Post to gather pictures of the Memorial Building, which were taken by veterans or others showing the progress being made in the construction of the building. It is hoped that any who might have such photos will get in touch with the custodian at the Legion building. A committee is to be appointed to have a print made of suitable pictures in order that they may be framed and hung in the building.

The next county meeting of the Legion will be held in Saugerties Wednesday night, February 14, at which time it is planned to have Colonel Girard McIntire deliver one of his interesting lectures.

Following the business meeting members of the Junior League presented one of the skits which was given in their recent revue. The members enjoyed the entertainment very much and appreciated the thoughtfulness of those who took part in the skit in putting on the entertainment for the members of the Post and Auxiliary. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

ABYSSINIAN PRINCE SEEKS JAPANESE BRIDE

Tokyo, Jan. 20 (AP).—Prince Ito Araya, 22-year-old nephew of Emperor Haile Selassie of Abyssinia, plans to visit Tokyo next month and choose a Japanese bride, vernacular newspapers said today.

It was reported the choice would be made in the course of an "important political and economic mission."

Foreign office attaches asserted they were ignorant of the plan and knew of no reason for an Abyssinian representative to visit Japan on such an errand.

Treasury Receipts.
Washington, Jan. 20 (AP).—The position of the treasury January 18: Receipts, $5,914,928.62; expenditures, $22,686,931.92; balance, $669,792,997.09; customs receipts for the month, $15,849,251.96. ## 4,000 "Marco Polos" Return With Milkman

Beaux Arts Ball at Waldorf-Astoria One of Most Gorgeous Costume Fetes of Year—Society En Masse Gives Oriental Scene in Rich Splendor.

New York, Jan. 20 (AP).—Society's "4,000" went home with the milkman this morning.

They were still discussing and comparing costumes displayed at one of the gorgeous fetes of the year, the annual beaux arts ball at the Waldorf-Astoria.

This year the event, always in costume, was a gay scene from the Orient titled "Marco Polo." Society was there en masse, garbed in chiffons and satins; shimmering cloth of gold and silver, and shining cellophane. Jewels gleamed in the costumes of beautiful ladies; gold and silver accoutrements from the persons of handsome gentlemen.

Starting at midnight, the pageant in 75 minutes took Marco and his cohorts from Venice on his 13th century voyage of discovery to "Far Cathay and Court of Kublai Khan."

Then came the "dance unto dawn." Chinese court ladies whirled about the ballroom in the arms of stalwart gondoliers. Persian princes made eyes at Italian flower girls and boys (not the kind that git along sipped champagne with Oriental slave girls).

Boxes along the walls of the ballroom bulged with distinguished guests and for the first time in years guests could drink at tables on the ballroom floor instead of retiring to private rooms for their cheer.

Among many striking costumes was that of Mrs. S. Stanwood Menken, a gown of specially woven cellophane 20 feet long. She represented "The Spirit of Euphrosyne Night."

Stars, comets and a dash of the Milky Way decorated the 15-foot wingspread.

Then there was Elsa Maxwell's idea of having her 20 guests garbed identically in Chinese house-boy costumes of yellow and purple cellophane.

Statewide Search on For Cornell Student

Ithaca, N. Y., Jan. 20 (AP).—A statewide search that extended into the coal fields of Pennsylvania, was pressed today for Jack V. Baker, 15 year old Cornell University student, over whose unexplained absence since January 10 his mother has been prostrated.

Card Party.
Vanderlyn Council, No. 41, D. of A., will hold a card party in Mechanics Hall on Tuesday evening, January 23. Games will start at 8 o'clock and will be in charge of Mrs. Marguerite Logan. Refreshments will be served. The public is invited.

Good Vaudeville Is Appreciated Here

Four New Acts at Broadway Theatre Pleased Large Attendance Friday—"Massacre" Worth Seeing.

Four new acts of vaudeville passed in review across the Broadway stage Friday night, along with the Richard Barthelmess in the feature picture "Massacre." Another packed house loudly acclaimed the work of the legitimate artists on the stage, and the picture "Massacre" proved to be as good as any of the many pictures that Barthelmess has starred in during the past ten years. The bill as a whole is well worth seeing, and that good vaudeville is appreciated in Kingston was amply demonstrated by the prolonged applause that followed in the wake of each of the four acts.

Bee Jung and Company started off the bill, and this act is a trapeze novelty, with Miss Jung going through a series of difficult maneuvers high above the stage without the use of a net.

Jack Goldie, blackface comedian, had the audience laughing at his capers most of the time he was on the stage, and he also proved his versatility by singing several songs, and ended up with a whistling number.

Jay Mills with his violin and Garry Greig with her crazy gestures appealed to the audience in a well planned and executed act that proved both enjoyable and entertaining. Both members of this act has a way of getting across to the audience, and by the applause that followed their number, this act was one of the hits of the show.

The feature of the program was the Perry Twins. There were four members of this troupe, three men and a girl. All of them went through a vigorous dance routine that was well timed and original. A tap dance boxing bout, an Apache dance, and a rope jumping number were the highlights of the program. It was one of the best dances ever offered in Kingston.

The four members of the troupe deserved the round of applause that followed their work.

"Massacre" starring Richard Barthelmess, and featuring Ann Dvorak, Dudley Digges and Claire Dodd, is Mr. Barthelmess' latest picture release, and never has he shown to better advantage than in the role of Joe Thunderhorse, full blooded Indian, who returns to the United States Government Reservation after attending school and discovers that the officials in charge are taking advantage of his people. Skillfully acted and directed, this expose on the Indian racket is timely and realistic drama. It is worth seeing, and is proclaimed one of the hit pictures of the day by the majority of the metropolitan critics.

Ambulance Calls Here.
Friday the ambulance removed Mrs. George Terwilliger from the Kingston Hospital to 172 Main street, and Mrs. Margaret Douglas from the Kingston Hospital to Washington avenue.

Body of New Born Male Child Found Near R. R. Tunnel

The Baby Had Evidently Been Born That Morning and Placed Near Old U. & D. Tunnel on Delaware Avenue—Body Found and Turned Over to Coroner Cunniff.

John Henge, of 22 Staples street, while gathering some sand to scatter on the sidewalk in front of his brother's place of business on Delaware avenue saw an old bath towel lying along the bank near the former U. & D. Delaware Railroad tunnel on Delaware avenue early Friday evening. Investigating he found that the towel had been wrapped about the body of a new born child. Mr. Henge immediately called up police headquarters and Officer Burger went to the scene and took charge of the body which he turned over to Coroner W. Norman Cunniff.

The coroner later had the body examined by Dr. H. L. Van Norstrand, and it was found that it was evident that the baby had been born earlier in the day. The body was 15 inches tall and had brown hair and brown eyes. It was a boy.

Acting on instructions from Assistant District Attorney N. LeVan Haver, the coroner interred the body today in Montpelier cemetery.

Mr. Henge told the police he had noticed the towel earlier in the afternoon but had not investigated until later when he was started to discover that the body of a baby was wrapped in it.

From the position of the parcel it could not have been thrown out from a passing car, but whoever deposited the dead child where it was found had to walk along the railroad tracks to do so.

Catholic Men Will Hear About Boy Scouts

William J. Dwyer is Chairman of Meeting to be Held at Governor Clinton Hotel on Wednesday, January 24.

In order to plan for the extension of Boy Scout work to a larger number of Catholic boys in Ulster county and also to explain a new plan for co-operation between the Catholic Church and the Boy Scouts of America, there will take place on Wednesday, January 24, a meeting of Catholic men from all parts of Ulster county. The meeting will be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel at 8 o'clock.

William J. Dwyer of Kingston is chairman of the meeting and he believes this meeting will be one most important and far reaching in its effect. Already word has been received from many of the churches in the county that they will be represented by good delegations.

Mr. Dwyer announced today that men of national and state prominence will be present. Among them will be Victor Ridder, one of the country's outstanding Catholic laymen. He is a newspaper publisher. Has been associated with the Boy Scouts of America since 1910. With the approval of the late Cardinal Farley, he sponsored the first troop of Catholic boys in the Cathedral and was later scoutmaster and troop committee man. He organized and was chairman of the bureau for the extension of the Scout movement in the Catholic Churches through America and advisor to the National Council in its relationship with Catholic leaders in matters of the interpretation of scouting, member of the National Executive Board since 1924 and of the Boy Scout Foundation of Greater New York, is a member of the board of directors of the International Boys Club Federation, chairman of the State Board of Social Welfare, the Executive Committee of the Welfare Council of New York city, the board of directors of the School of Sociology, Fordham University, former member of the State Probation Commission. He pioneered in the work for Catholic boys in children's court.

Mr. Ridder was one of the founders and the treasurer of the Mulry Club, an organization of Catholic Social Workers of the city of New York.

There will also be present George Denniston, executive of the Catholic Charities and director of the Catholic Boy Scout Extension Bureau; J. Boy Scout Goodman, director of the program division of the Boy Scouts of America. All of these men are outstanding men in their field of work and will bring a very interesting and important message to the Catholic men of Ulster county.

Dr. Wynekoop Today Shows Improvement

Chicago, Jan. 20 (AP).—Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, whose illness yesterday halted until Monday her trial for the murder of her daughter-in-law, Rheta, today showed signs of improvement. Dr. Constantine Theodore, of the county jail staff, reported.

The 62 year old defendant ate her customary breakfast and appeared to have a good appetite.

D. of A. Card Party.
A public card party will be held by Vanderlyn Council, 11, daughters of America, at Mechanics Hall, 14, of 72 Clinton avenue, a daughter, Lorraine Dorothy, at Kingston Hospital.

Mystery Note Says Bremer "Bumped Off" By Drunken Gangster

St. Paul, Jan. 20 (AP).—A mystery note, claiming Edward G. Bremer, abducted for $200,000 ransom, had been "bumped off" was received through the mail today by W. C. Robertson, Minneapolis postmaster.

Written in longhand by a good penman, the note said:

"Very sorry but Edward Bremer is now resting in peace. Was by accident bumped off. Body near Anoka, Minn. Will not be found until after the snow goes, contact all off. Please forgive us. All a mistake by one of our gang being drunk."

"Please tell Walter Magee, St. Paul."

No stamp was in the envelope, addressed to Robertson, recently appointed postmaster of Minneapolis by President Roosevelt. It bore no postmark.

Heavily armed, details of federal bureau of investigation operatives and city police, the latter headed by Chief of Police Thomas Dahill and Charles Tierney, inspector of detectives, left immediately for Anoka, about 20 miles north of Minneapolis.

The message, coming three days after the finding of the wealthy 37-year-old bank president's blood stained automobile, caused a furor and heightened the alarm the family and friends have felt for the safety of the son of Adolph Bremer, personal friend of President Roosevelt and principal owner of the Jacob Schmidt Brewing Company.

Sploshed with blood, evidence in the automobile indicated Bremer was brutally dragged over the head by his captors, dragged into the back seat, and spirited away to an undisclosed hideout.

Simultaneously, a report was spread that Bremer had been released near Lake Elmo, Minn., about 10 miles from here. This was promptly denied by Walter Magee, named in the note received by the Minneapolis postmaster. Magee, wealthy contractor and friend of the Bremers, received a telephone call and a note from the kidnappers soon after Bremer was seized Wednesday.

The note, signed by Bremer in a shaky scrawl, giving rise to belief that he might have been injured, threatened death to the wealthy banker if negotiators called in police or informed newspapers.

VISITING VIENNESE SURGEON FAVORS STERILIZATION LAW
New York, Jan. 20 (AP).—Endorsing sterilization and bringing a recipe for longevity, Dr. Adolph Lorenz, 79-year-old bloodless surgeon, who commutes across the Atlantic in conducting his practice, arrived in New York on the liner Hamburg today.

Of sterilization, the Viennese surgeon who pioneered in treating diseases without use of the knife, said:

"Compulsory sterilization has been my dream for 20 years. I endorse it with all my heart because its purpose is to prevent disease, to eliminate the mental and moral defects, born criminals and incorrigible drunkards."

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR COMING WEEK
Following is the weather outlook for the period January 22 to 27:

North and Middle Atlantic States: Rain Monday, ending by or during Tuesday; probably beginning as snow in New England and interior of New York. Rain again about Thursday, then generally fair. Warmer Monday, somewhat colder Tuesday night; warmer Thursday and considerably colder Friday and Friday night.

RICHARD DAVIS INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY TRUCK

Frank Krawowski of Route 3, Saugerties, reported to the police department Friday afternoon that Richard Davis, 6, of 363 Washington avenue, ran out from behind a car parked at the curb on Washington avenue and was struck by his truck. The boy was brought to the Kingston Hospital where it was found he had been cut about the face and sustained body bruises.

Disarmament Adjourned

Geneva, Jan. 20 (AP).—Disarmament leaders today adjourned their meeting until February 13, when they will gather again to fix a date for resumption of the World Disarmament Conference. The failure to agree on a date at the session terminated today was believed due to a desire to give more time for Franco-German arms negotiations with the hope that progress there might ultimately lead to Germany's return to the conference.

Our Growing Population

The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. Doris D. Dabney of 47 South Pine street, a daughter, Betty Jane, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schoonmaker of 8 Wrentham street, a son, William John, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas J. J. Creamer of 72 Clinton avenue, a daughter, Lorraine Dorothy, at Kingston Hospital.

Workers' Association Will Seek Court Action In Effort To Settle Mayoralty Tangle

Palmer Canfield, Chairman of Executive Committee, Submits List of Questions He Desires Courts to Decide—To Cooperate With Executive Committee of Taxpayers' Association to Take Action Deemed Necessary.

Robert Roy Brown Is Found Guilty by Jury In Narcotic Case Here

Attorney for Defendant Given Until Monday Afternoon to Make Motions—Maximum Sentence for Crime Is Ten Years.

The jury in the case of The People against Robert Roy Brown, negro, who conducted a barber shop at 30 Broadway, Kingston, and who has been on trial in county court on a charge of selling habit forming drugs, reported about 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, bringing in a verdict of guilty as charged. The case was given to the jury shortly before 1 o'clock.

Following receipt of the verdict, Judge Frederick G. Traver, before whom the case had been tried, adjourned court until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon and gave Palmer Canfield, attorney for the defendant, until that time to make any motions he desired. He stated that unless defendant's motions prevailed, Brown would probably be sentenced at that time.

The maximum sentence for the crime of which Brown has been found guilty is ten years.

The case has been on in county court since Tuesday morning, at which time the drawing of a jury was begun. Most of the actual trial, and the summing up, for the people, was done by Assistant District Attorney LeVan Haver, with District Attorney Murray sitting in the case. Brown was represented by Palmer Canfield.

Brown was arrested following a raid on his place on November 11, 1932. Several other negroes arrested at the same time pleaded guilty and received short terms in jail on misdemeanor charges.

Roosevelt Seeks New Chairman for Party
James A. Farley insists on resigning to give more time to his job as Postmaster General—Lobbying Attacked.

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP).—A surge of political party changes that may widely alter the national capital's accustomed line-up today gathered momentum in various quarters.

President Roosevelt, at the insistence of James A. Farley, is seeking a new chairman for the Democratic National Committee. No immediate shift appeared imminent, but Farley has indicated he would retire as party chairman when a successor is found in order to devote more time to his postmaster generalship.

On Capitol Hill, the President's denunciation of lobbying by national committeemen today had developed into a wave of political reform spirit that promised quick consideration of corrective legislation.

The Senate had before it a measure to prevent members of either national party committee from practicing before government departments. Other bills to carry the reform still further were under consideration.

Senator Steiwer (R., Oregon) said he would seek early action on a bill he has introduced to prevent party conventions from being loaded with political appointees. Another Senator was drafting a bill to prevent members of Congress from lobbying before government departments.

Legislation may arise also from a reiteration by Senator Norris (R., Neb.) that he was opposed to "the chairman of the national committee of any political party being in the Senate, the House or the Cabinet."

To Straighten Matters Out.
Charles Burger said that he understood from the Democratic side that it had been arranged to straighten the matter out without court action.

Mr. Canfield in reply said that he did not think the matter could be straightened out without a court decision, and that sooner or later this year some one was going to raise the issue, and it might as well be settled now.

Under the plan, as proposed by the executive committee both sides could get together in a friendly manner and present the questions to a supreme court judge for decision. This would mean there would be no long drawn out litigation, and that the city's business would not be tied up.

"Must Be Court Action."
Mr. Canfield said that as he saw it there must be a court decision in the question, otherwise a cloud would hang over the city's affairs. For that reason he did not believe that the matter could be settled or straightened out without a court decision on the questions he said were involved.

Adopted Resolution.
The resolution authorizing the executive committee to cooperate with the executive committee of the Kingston Taxpayers' Association in the mayoralty matter was unanimously adopted.

The meeting took up several other matters and then adjourned.

Seek Teneyck On Hold-up Charge

Sergeant Lookhart of the State Troopers sent a message over the teletype machine, which was received in police headquarters this morning, sending out an alarm to pick up John Teneyck of New Paltz. According to the teletype message Teneyck held up Ethel Ratizan of Modena, taking her Essex sedan and some cash she had with her, and then driving the stolen car in the direction of New York city. The message stated that Teneyck had been on parole from Comstock prison and lived in New Paltz.

WILLIAM STORMS STILL IN HOSPITAL; CASE ADJOURNED

Another adjournment was taken in the hearing of Frank Krawowski charged by William Storms with assault in the third degree, when the police were informed this morning that Storms was still confined to the Kingston Hospital. An adjournment for a week was also taken in the charge brought by Krawowski against Storms, who he charged with disorderly conduct. According to the story told the police the two men had an argument as to who was now mayor of Kingston.

Lighting Called "Lazy"
Lighting on its path to the ground can be called "lazy" for it seeks the path of least electrical resistance. Since most materials used by man in building construction have less resistance than air, lightning commonly prefers to strike a house top and go through it, rather than down the air outside. The ability of high skyscrapers to act as super lightning rods arises from their steel girder construction, which eventually enters the ground and through which the lightning passes harmlessly.

Lights of New York

One of the homes that has not been opened in a rather grim brick house at Fifth avenue and Fifty-first street. It is the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hartley Dodge. Mrs. Dodge being the niece of John D. Rockefeller. The reason the house is not open is that the Dugges spend most of their time on their huge farm near Madison, N. J. The Duke mansion at 1 East Seventy-eighth street, is tenanted most of the time except for servants and guards, the family spending the greater part of the time at Duke farms near Somerville, N. J. Then a stone's throw away, at 972 Fifth avenue, is a silent white mansion. That's the home of Mrs. Payne Whitney. But she's seldom there. Usually, she's at Green-tree, her estate at Manhasset.

The home of Mrs. Mary Duke Biddle at 1009 Fifth avenue, is also a town house practically tenanted. Mrs. Biddle prefers the mansion at Irvington-on-the-Hudson, high up on a hill overlooking a great sweep of open country. There are more, many more. And those silent town houses don't do those who profited by the entertainments of old any good at all.

Millions of dollars were spent by the late J. B. Duke on his New Jersey estate. The ample grounds are traversed by 35 miles of paved roads. In the past, the grounds were open to the public. But the public was unappreciative. Shrubbery was broken and rubbish left behind. So now the public is barred.

Speaking of rubbish, wonder what would happen if other magistrates follow an example set recently by Magistrate John H. Goldstein. Three culprits who appeared before him pleaded guilty to throwing rubbish on the sidewalk. They didn't have the $2 fine, so the magistrate set them to work sweeping in front of their homes for an hour with a police inspector to see that there was no loafing on the job. The offenders live down on the lower East side where among many it is the custom to wrap garbage in a paper bag and drop it out of a window. In some higher rental sections, tenants drop refuse down into courtyards.

Learned something else—this has absolutely no connection with the preceding paragraph—from the Social Register. Among those listed therein were 910 marriages last year, while the year before, there were 1,044. Five hundred and fifty-nine deaths were recorded.

Dave Chasen is certainly a durable stooge. At every performance of "Hold Your Horses," now on tour, six husky stage hands had to be on the alert to keep him from being killed. In the course of the performance, Joe Cook tells Chasen to drop down to the corner and get him a cigar. Chasen instantaneously disappears through a trap door. Various devices were used to break the force of his fall. But only human arms proved reliable. And at that, Chasen took a lot of bruises on the road with him.

Girl Receives Answer to Note After 15 Years
Bremerton, Wash.—Fifteen years ago, Miss Agnes Turkish was working in an overall factory in Freehold, Pa. While wrapping the overalls she stuffed a note into one of the pockets. The note read: "I hope these overalls wear good and I hope you are the man who will get the kaiser. Expect an early reply."

The reply was a little late. About 15 years, as a matter of fact. The note was discovered by a C. G. C. member.

Denied Fresh Air, Wife Gets Divorce
San Francisco—Mrs. Fernande Delort Engahl, among charges of cruelty in her suit for divorce, told how her husband nailed down a bedroom window.

"I like fresh air," she told Judge Thomas F. Graham. "I opened the window. My husband, Milton, got out of bed and closed it. I opened it again. He got up and nailed it down."

She said this happened several times, adding that she would pull the nails during the day and her husband would re-nail them at night.

Mrs. Engahl was granted a divorce.

Weight of Gold
The weight of gold depends upon its fineness. Gold having a density of 19.3 grams per cubic centimeter is practically pure gold. A cubic inch of such gold would weigh 490 of a pound avoirdupois. A cubic foot of the same gold would weigh over 1,200 pounds.

Humidity in Houses
Humidity in houses should be from 30 to 50 per cent, but is most homes it is probably 20 per cent or lower—too dry for health. The drier the air, the more difficult it is to heat a house, as moisture in the air carries and retains heat. If frost forms freely on the inside of the glass there is probably enough humidity; if there is no sign of frost the air is too dry.

Strange Things in Bermuda
Weird sights in Bermuda include lizards that break off their own tails, crabs that disguise themselves by covering their backs with a sponge, four-eyed fishes, a plant that blooms only once in 100 years, and homes that are built of sandstone hewn out of their own cellars. Not the least strange is the "life plant," a leaf which will sprout against a wall or, indeed, it is said, anywhere at all!

SIMPLE HOME SEWING

Is home sewing a lost art? Not in a good many homes where skillful mothers rule. A Cornell bulletin will help to simplify the work, and sew on snaps, hooks, eyes, and buttons. Handy housewives may save time and energy by obtaining a copy.

FASHIONS BY ELEANOR GUNN

Black Net Frou Frou Frocks Pleasantly Revived

New York—Without much belly-boo announcing its reappearance, the net dress floated into the sartorial picture about holiday time when all the young things were merry-making. But it wasn't only the young things who wore net. Black net was favored by that swell and sophisticated young person who is the backbone of the young married set. She was sheathed in black tulle, veiled in net, and a frou-frou of net from the knees down, or she was flouting a sort of peacock tail arrangement of net ruffles cascading down either side of the center back, from the waist to the tipmost end of her train.

Black net is an extraordinarily becoming sort of thing to wear, especially when the net veils the shoulders and then ruffles itself in a sort of collar or bertha, giving a dropped shoulder-line effect, although being actually cut to the neckline.

Such dresses are, logically enough, tulle lined. They may or may not have long sleeves. Many of them have some sort of girder, for black with a spot of color still remains a greater favorite than all black. It is still chic to affect bright slippers with a black dress.

Evening slippers are very lovely this season, and are patterned on Greek sandal lines. Many of them are made of bright slipper satin with criss cross braid over their short vamp. The extreme models have no toe.

Everywhere one goes, one is impressed by the elaborate coiffures worn. The diadem is very much in evidence and is sometimes a crescent of graduating balls, the large one in the center. There are filigree bands and some very stunning plain ones for the type who can carry off that sort of thing.

The Tricorne, a Mid-season Favorite

The tricorne is steadily growing in favor. There is shown a tricorne turban of beaming ribbon, with softly shirred sides which form points, the third point in front being brought over from the back. Two slender silver and gold metal quills trim it. There is also a beret in tricorne effect which is of the same silk with balanced cocardes at either side. What is termed a "semi-tricorne" is a model of ribbed straw cloth with peak crown and cuff effect.

Turquoise blue is one of the colors which has recently been popular with other colors.

For Evening, Gowns Are Gay and Provocative Like These

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild

Illustrated below are evening gowns developed in black net, both of which reveal ruffled treatment. The standing figure is wearing a dress with neckline high at the front, the skirt introducing shallow ruche-ruffles from knee to floor, with the same ruffled detail appearing in the capelet sleeves. A pink metal girder makes an effective trimming. While ruffles are a feature of the companion frock, introduced to give a drop-shoulder line, also to animate the skirt. A glittering girder and shoulder-straps are sparkling details.

At the extreme left above is a gown fashioned of black net, with ruffled treatment at the arms, repeated at the lower section of the skirt. The drop-shoulder line and the bow details are interesting.

An interesting combination of fabrics is reflected in the next gown, the bodice done in ombre tulle ribbon, and the skirt built up at the front in black corded crepe. The neckline, low at the front, is an important feature of evening gowns this season.

The next gown is noteworthy for its halter neckline, molded bodice and trained hemline. The fabric is crepe.

The next gown in billowy chiffon suggested as a dance frock with vivid colors featured. The crisp width at the shoulders is attractive, contrasting with the soft width of the hemline.

Mossy crepe is chosen for the gown at the extreme right, with rhinestones introduced in sparkling splashes on the bodice, the belt and shoulder straps.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

The following paragraphs have been taken from reports of what has been worn at the Metropolitan Opera House since its premier and also what has been worn at the smartest night clubs and the gales both in Paris and New York.

First of all, green looked especially attractive, particularly the mossy and slightly yellowed and the bright greens, frequently done in satins and in rough crepes and mossy crepes. A pale, rather baby pink also looked new—this in crepe, and in satin. The dramatic contrast of white satin with arresting color in small touches, such as bright red, bright green and, newest of all, in rich bright browns, such as twisted shoulder straps of printed slippers, made another new report. One cannot miss the repeated mention of satin throughout any report of these.

In wraps there is an appreciable effort to get away from the very tortured shoulder and upper sleeve lines—all the newest ones looked much neater and trimmer through this section of the body. There is moderate softness and ease—and many of the furless coats and wraps show deep cape effects. The rich colored, three-quarter length velvet coats were especially interesting, particularly when it came to furless wraps, with such colors as the vibrant tile and rust shades emphasized. Also of much interest are the three-quarter furs, done with simple little tie and cravat collars.

Muffs and muff purses are represented in variety, with feathers popular in this accessory. Uncurled ostrich, curled ostrich, coq and vulture are among the feathers—these are intricate workings of the bands of fur which trimmed the wrap, and velvet was the important medium for such accessories. Many young girls wear flowers on the muff.

Fringe is back in the picture for evening, there is no doubt about it. At the opera, enough smart looking gowns and costumes were seen involving this decoration to make it a note for the record. It is long and knotted, appearing most often in scarf capelets which are effectively draped to cover the shoulders and bodice, and again on the skirt in varied zigzag workings. Usually it is very long.

The shops are giving a flattering amount of attention to net dresses for evening wear, and while black is being played up in important fashion, colors are also featured, such interesting shades as magenta, emerald green and sapphire blue.

If You Must Take Time By the Forelock

ONE OF THE SOFTER SUITS

New York—If you are the impatient type who simply cannot wait for a season to come around and must rush out to meet it, you might begin ordering, or at least planning, your shirtwaist dresses. They are sure to be the vogue. Women who are meticulous about tailoring find that shirt makers are a good source of supply for this sort of costume.

You may want your spring suit early too, since any one with eyes in their head can see that suits are going to be worn, also that they are worn, under fur coats if necessary.

It seems absurdly early to begin talking about silk suits, but one just can't help reading of their success at southern resorts, not to mention California and the Riviera. Silk suits are of several types including the boxy sort, which is casual enough to find favor with the women who do not insist on mannish tailored things when it comes to a suit. It rather looks as though there would be many soft suits worn, you know, the so-called dressmaker type. Isn't it just like a woman to go to a man's shirt maker for her dresses and to a dressmaker for her suits?

If you just must be the first to leap into print, get a print with a black background. Time enough for the others later, and the black background prints are very good looking, whether Chinese, Russian, Mexican or anything else for that matter. The motif may be as bright as you like.

Mossy crepes continue, and will continue, and there are also ribbed fabrics, and stripes of all conceivable kinds.

And don't forget the smart knitted things, boucle and the like, nor that perennial favorite the two surfaced crepe, one surface trimming the other, shiny and mat as it is called.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Of outstanding current interest here is the type of suit that the metallic shirtwaists to wear with velvet skirts for semi-formal dining. White short with silver or gold is stressed; the fronts are tailored-tucked and quite mannish.

(Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild)

Here is the type of suit that qualifies for early popularity, since it may be worn under the topcoat. The model illustrated is in black diagonal cashmere woolen and is piped in a companion black and white plaid.

Light Touches on Dark Costumes
The Preference at the Tea Hour

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild

Conservative costumes, with black as a preferred choice, appear at the tea dancing hour.

At left is a black crepe frock with a monk draped collar lined in palest pink. The sleeves are elbow length.

Next to it is a black silk frock with white padded rolls at neckline and sleeves with large clips giving a edifying touch. The black felt hat is caught over one eye by a small white fur bow.

A white hacherra blouse with Herriot collar is belted with a scarlet silk cord and worn with a black skirt. A peaked toque in black velvet completes the costume.

A junior wears a rust crepe frock with band collar, large bow and flared cuffs of brown and beige checked tulle. Her tam is brown velvet with a metal quill.

Another youth ful dancer wears a black crepe frock with bodice yoke and sleeves of silver lame. Three large crystal balls and a jabot frill lend interest at the neckline. A large brimmed black velvet hat is worn.

"In" and "On" the Street

The explanation of the expression "lives in a street" instead of "lives on a street," is that street includes not only the roadway and sidewalks, but also the bordering dwellings and business houses. Sometimes the distinction indicates a difference in the street, the intention being to distinguish the character, as "this office is in Wall Street," but "he lives on Washington street."

Kingston High Bows To Poughkeepsie, 31-30

After a hard-fought basketball game, Kingston High and Poughkeepsie High clashed in the Poughkeepsie High gym and at the final whistle the bridge city team emerged the victor, 31-30, after a thrilling nip and tuck game.

All through the game, the lead swayed back and forth between the two teams and never was either team able to pile up more than a four-point lead. Finally in the last few minutes of play with the score in a 29-26 deadlock Kingston fouled and Meade of Poughkeepsie made good the free throw which gave his team the victory.

The game was marked with fast, accurate passing. Kingston had considerably larger number of field shots at the hoop but made only a fraction of them good.

Zeeh Again the Star.

Captain Johnny Zeeh of Kingston, who has started in almost every other previous contest, was again the ace scorer of the game with 15 points to his credit. He was the first to tally and made half of Kingston's points. Greco, led the down river team with 14, while the two centers, Meade of Poughkeepsie and Every of Kingston came next with 9 and 8 apiece. The guard work of Andy Dykes and Tony Debrosky was also very commendable.

Basket By Basket

Captain Johnny Zeeh of Kingston started the scoring of the game by making a field. Soon after, Greco of the Kalkochmen knotted the score 2-2 by making a field for his team. As the quarter progressed Every and Zeeh made a foul and a field which was followed by a field and a foul by Greco and Liguori which again knotted the score 5-5. After this Meade of Poughkeepsie pushed his team ahead on a foul and then Every put the locals in front by a field making it 7-6 in favor of Kingston. Near the end of the first quarter Gunn of the bridge city cagers and Every of the Kalkochmen each sank a field, making it 9-8 with Kingston leading at the end of the first quarter.

In the second Greco and Meade started the scoring by sinking a field each and soon after this Greco sank a free throw, making it 13-9 for Poughkeepsie. Here Johnny Zeeh found the loop for a field and a foul which were followed by a foul by Townsend of the Kalkochmen and a field by Zeeh, which again deadlocked the score 14-14. As the game progressed Greco sank two fields in quick succession, Zeeh found the loop for a field, Townsend sank a free throw and Scherer of Kingston made a field in that order to make the score 19-18 in Poughkeepsie's favor at half time.

Soon after the beginning of the third quarter, Dykes sank a long field for Kingston, pushing the local ahead 20-19. Here Liguori deadlocked the score 20-20 by a foul. As the quarter progressed, Moore made a foul, Townsend found the loop for a field, Tony Debrosky sank a foul, Greco found the iron circle for a foul and a field. Every sank a field and Meade made a foul for their teams which made the scoreboard read 26-24 in favor of Poughkeepsie at the end of the third period.

As the fourth and final quarter opened Johnny Zeeh sank a foul and a field, pushing the locals ahead 27-26. Here Meade made a field, putting Poughkeepsie to the front 28-27. At this point Dykes sank a field and Zeeh made a foul, which brought the score to 30-28 with Kingston in front. In the last few minutes of play Meade sank a field making it 30-30 all. As pandemonium reigned in the crowd, Every fouled which put him out on four personals. Beichert replaced him. Meade had two free shots from this foul and he made one, making the final result 31-30, as the final whistle blew soon after he made his free throw, ending the game.

Next Friday Kingston meets Newburgh Free Academy in the local gym in its second DUSO contest. A preliminary will precede the game and dancing will follow.

The City of Caracas

Founded in 1567 by Don Diego de Losada, a Spanish captain, who gave the site the name of Santiago de Losada, which is still to be found in modern public documents, Caracas is a city of some 110,000 inhabitants. Although situated within ten degrees of the equator, its high altitude gives it a climate of perpetual spring, with pale blue skies almost always unclouded and the temperature seldom rising above 80 degrees. Here in this mountain capital, Bolivia, Venezuela's liberator, was born, and the city still retains much of the atmosphere of old colonial Spain.

LOTT'S MAKING SOLOS SORRY THEY RANKED HIM ONLY TENTH

Ordinarily, George Lott doesn't take himself or life in general too seriously. But when he does get his number up he can be a whole of a lot serious. That's what happened when they ranked him No. 10 for his career, and now he's making them on the more serious side.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Perhaps no figure in American college sports experienced a more poignant pang of feeling than Parke Hill Davis, Princeton '92, upon reading the charge of Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace that our universities not only have failed to develop or produce leadership but that "our college life has expressed its vitality in such rackets as organized football."

To Mr. Davis, a giant of a man whose athletic experiences and memories go back to the days of Hefelinger and Muldoon, this must have seemed like the blow from a blunt instrument in the dark. A lawyer in Easton, Pa., Mr. Davis has devoted much of a lifetime to the tabulation of football records and analysis of its history, following long service as a coach and rule-maker. He played and coached at Princeton. He founded football at Wisconsin. He originated a number of the standard regulations of the gridiron code. Now, as the game's more or less official historian, he has to his credit the authority and compilation of an amazing amount of information.

Having all this in mind, as I say, Mr. Davis must have trembled with indignation, born of the knowledge that he has personally compiled page after page of the names of presidents and cabinet men, congressmen and senators, generals and admirals, governors and mayors, prelates and college presidents, figures high in the judiciary, finance and industry—all with a background of football playing experience or connection with the game.

"Our Racketeers"

I have seen this list many times. It has grown, of course with the years and the increasing industry or research of Mr. Davis. I have an early copy of it before me. Its customary heading of "Graduates of the Gridiron" is supplemented in pencil with the ironic words, "Our Racketeers."

The first name on the list is that of Franklin D. Roosevelt, who played tackle and fullback at Groton School and on informal class teams while he was studying at Harvard. There follows the names of four other presidents—Woodrow Wilson who coached football at Princeton and also Wesleyan; Calvin Coolidge, who helped coach one year at Amherst and is likewise identified as "informal counselor of Parke Davis"; Theodore Roosevelt, the elder, who was vitally interested in the reform of football rules in 1905; and Herbert Hoover, manager of the Stanford football team in 1894.

Great names fairly swarm over the remaining pages. It is impressive company and it seems, as Mr. Davis consistently has pointed out, to emphasize the qualities of leadership or ability stimulated by the greatest of college sports.

Big Men, All.

Chief Justice Stone played guard at Amherst. The late Gen. Leonard Wood was a halfback at Georgia Tech. Senator George Wharton Pepper played in the Pennsylvania line. Former Ambassador Robert Bacon was a Harvard captain and halfback. Vance McCormick, chairman of the war-time Trade Board was captain and quarterback at Yale. Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania played guard for Old Eli. Secretary Dern was a captain and tackle at Nebraska. John Reed Kilpatrick, head of Madison Square Gardens, was All-America end at Yale. Willie Weston of Michigan and Wally Steffen of Chicago, other famous All-Americans, now are judges.

One Cent a Word
Troy's Luckies Edge
Out Emeralds By
One Point, 32-31

Before another capacity crowd at White Eagle Hall, Friday night, Jack Troy's Luckies edged out the Liberty Emeralds, 32-31, by virtue of "Big" Van Ewen's foot shot with only a few seconds of the regulation playing time remaining. "Big" was in good scoring form throughout the evening, teaming up with Pete Schlone, center, to collect 31 points each for the Luckies. Hodges of the Emeralds showed the way to all with 12 points.

In the preliminaries the Y. W. C. A. Girls abetted the Moran School ladies 34-4 and Jimmy Cullen's All Stars crumbled, the Seventh Ward
Democrats, 35-10.

One fan, rooting for the "Dorkeys" became enraged at the way the Seventh Warders missed foot shots and suggested a game between them and the Y. W. Girls of Newburgh, who ran away with the Moran. If this contest is put on it likely will draw one of the largest crowds ever seen in White Eagle Hall.

Sioux Team Defeats
Hunter Big Five

Before a large crowd of spectators
the Sioux Five of Port Ewen defeated the Hunter Big Five in a tough fought contest Friday night at Port Ewen. Taking an early lead and holding it throughout the Indians defeated one of the best junior teams in this section. This was done mainly by the spectacular shooting of Munson and Becker and the guard work of Gumaer.

Five defeated the Connolly A. C. and the Winkley Five lost by three points to the Hunter girls, 10-7.

Next Tuesday at Port Ewen the

At The Theatres

Today.
Kingston: "Flying Down to Rio".
Speaking of musical extravaganzas, this tinsel trip to Rio just about rings the bell for entertainment value of that type. Staged mostly in the clouds, gorgeous girls dancing on the wings of giant planes in high-southern, new dance steps, a cast of thousands, new songs, no plot to speak of, and a talented cast headed by Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Dolores Del Rio, Gene Raymond and Paul Robeson, all combine to make this talkie a spectacle to witness and hear on the Kingston Theatre screen.

The "Caricosa," the new dance step of Brazil, is also featured against a background of hot South American rhythm. Some of the dance scenes are unbelievably lovely, and the sets are always exceptional and different.
The direction was by Thornton Freeland. Grand entertainment.

Orpheum: "Mazie" and "Rawhide Romance". Dorothy Lee is in the starring role of the first talkie, and she is helped along by Lee Moran in this story of modern girl. "Rawhide Romance" offers Buffalo Bill, Jr., in a rip-roaring western yarn that has action every shot of the way.

Broadway: "Vaudeville" on the stage and "Massacre" on the screen.
Four new vaudeville acts, said to be as good as last week's program, features the stage bill. Music, dance, comedy and novelty acts compose this bill. "Massacre" pictures the final and fading battle of the present day American Indian against his oppressors, the white man. Deprived of his land, his own ideas of living, for decades tossed about as one would do with animals, the Indian today has nothing to remind him of his past glory and prestige.
A downtrodden and beaten race, they at last find a champion in one of their own people, Richard Barthelmess, in the role of an educated Indian, returns to his people after years spent in civilization, and he sees how his people are being taken advantage of by the white man. Pulled between love of his own kind, and the love of a white woman, he finally leads his people in revolt. Fast moving, often bitter drama of an oppressed people, this story, with a cast of over 3,000 people, is worth seeing. Ann Dvorak, Claire Dodd and Dudley Digges are to be seen in featured roles. The vaudeville offers the following acts: Jack Goldie, Jay Mills and Gerlie Groby, Ben Jung Company, and the Perry Twins, Taris and Ozzie.

Tomorrow
Kingston: Same.
Orpheum: "Cradle Song" and "Fury of the Jungle". Dorothy Week, the famous European star, completes her first American film in this simple and beautiful story of a Nun who finds an unwanted baby, and who brings the child to womanhood. This picture is worth seeing because of the really fine acting of Miss Week, and the story itself is different than the usual run of movie scenarios. "Fury of the Jungle" is pretty wild stuff, what with a white woman alone among a group of evil men, with only one white man making an effort to do right by our Nell.
Melodrama, fast and furious every minute of the time, characterizes this talkie. Donald Cook and Peggy Shannon head the cast. "Clancy of the Mounted" is the serial thriller of the Mounted Police, with Tom Tyler in the hero role, is an added feature on Sunday only.

Broadway: "Lady Killer". James Cagney, as nervous as ever, goes through all kinds of new tricks in this latest talkie. In this one, Mr. Cagney is a "fingerman" for a band of thieves, and he breaks away from the mob and tries his luck in Hollywood and the talkie. He climbs to the top of the ladder, is a big success, when along comes his old determined to keep him out of them.
His career is almost wrecked because of their efforts to make him see their point of view. Mr. Cagney kicks women around in his usual fashion during the course of this picture, and there are also some good laughs.
The show is entirely Mr. Cagney's,
but Mae Clarke and Margaret Lindsay share honors in the feminine leads. The picture was directed by Indians Lived In 'Houses,' Mound Excavations Indicate

The skeleton of a prehistoric Indian, buried with knees bent and presumably killed by an enemy, is shown here being examined by an archaeologist at "mound" excavations in Georgia.

Macon, Ga., Jan. 28.—Evidence that tribes of prehistoric American Indians may have lived in houses rather than the tepees of popular fancy has been found in excavations at Indian mounds near Macon.

Remains of log huts and stone fireplaces have been unearthed by 200 excavators employed by the Civil Works administration and supervised by archeologists of the Smithsonian Institution.

The 25 mounds, large and small,
are believed by Dr. Arthur R. Kelly, director of the excavations, to be the work of many generations of different tribes.

How long the mounds have stood is yet to be determined, although archeologists declare it obvious they were erected long before the advent of the white man.

There is only legend to identify the tribes. One story is that the Hitchiti once occupied the territory.
Then, according to legend, the Creeks appeared and either subjugated or assimilated their predecessors.

The largest of the mounds, known as the Great Ceremonial, rises 120 feet above the surrounding plain.
